PRICE TWO CENTS

On The Great White Way

NEAR-NEWS AND CHATTER FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

To the lady first correctly guessing the identity of the person of whom the following is a character sketch, and bringing a copy of this paper to The Tribune office, a cash prize of $1.00 will be given. The subject of the sketch is a prominent citizen of La Crosse. After winning one prize, a contestant will not be eligible to again compete for a period of three months.

The winner of the last "Guess Who's Here?" contest was Miss Minnie Oehler, 129 South Second street, the subject of the sketch being Frank Kohn.

GUESS WHO'S HERE

He always has his hair cut curly. He's athletic and smiling and Teutonic, the latter despite Celtic associations. He drifted from pedagogy to Blackstone with the speed of a vol-planing aviator, and graduated in the school of politics in about the time usually devoted to the political primer. For a beginner, he has the art of being official without being officious well in hand. He likes his joke, and can take one, and he's acquiring the knack of being "out with the boys" without looking as much at home as a Quaker in a poker game. He disseminates language fluently, is inspired with the pride of democracy with a nice association of sentiment and practical intent, enjoys an appetite in proportion to his raw-boned immensity, and figures to skip every second rung in climbing the ladder of fame. He has been charged with precocity, but answers with the unruly grin of the forward youngster. He declines to be suppressed or eliminated, and folk who calculate to circulate in this community may as well make up their minds to digest him, for he'll be served up as many times a day as the papers are printed during the illustrious generation in the affairs of which he proposes, vi et armis if necessary, to take a busy part.

YARNS OF THE TOWN

Well, I hope nothing happens to you while I'm gone." That was Hugh Robinson's parting word to his friends here at the moment of his departure Thursday for Minneapolis, whence he planned to start on the morrow upon his long flight to New Orleans. He said it seriously, as he says everything, but a twinkle in his quiet eye suggested that it was a little joke of his own, perhaps a defiant fling at the fates he dares as he wings his way to fame and fortune.

Robinson isn't a "mixer." He is a serious minded young man, cool, calculating, iron-nerved. He faces the daily perils of his calling with an imperturbability that wins admiration. It isn't the dare-devil venture-someness that takes a chance without measuring it. Rather is it the studied courage of a man deliberately committing himself to a risky undertaking every peril of which he has estimated, and his own ability to master which he has mentally tested. Indeed, his lack of impetuosity stamps his daring as of the finest sort, and his caution that meets necessary danger but never plunges into foolish jeopardy is the product of keen intelligence and evidences recognition of the duty every man owes his Creator to conserve the life with which Heaven has endowed him.

"How's your pulse?" asked John C. Burns, placing his hand over Robinson's heart. It was at the moment when the aviator was making his flight to the Tribune's meet. In that flight of 2,000 feet, and then plunged almost directly earthward a distance of approximately 2,500 feet before checking his machine.

"I sometimes wonder if I have a heart or nerves," replied Robinson. "I don't believe he has," said Mr. Burns afterward. "He couldn't have been more composed had he been going to take a hand at croquet."

Hugh Robinson was born on Oct. 13, and having accepted every chance from his famous motorcycle "loop the loop" to 6,000 miles through the clouds at about 100 miles an hour, and being still on earth and assembled as per the plans and specifications for "the human form divine," the aviator has no pessimistic impressions about the malignant "13." Indeed, he regards "13" as the crowning glory of Good Luck's diadem, and he never flies without that numerical mascot blazoned on his car.

But the biplane which Robinson flew at the fair grounds Thursday was a new one, and as the aerialist brushed with the clouds, he bethought him that the machine bore no talisman. So he penciled "13" on a card, and attached it to one of the fenders. Then he took his seat, and in a few moments the Sky Pilot was a speeding speck on the eastern horizon.

disproportionate size. This was demonstrated when Mr. Robinson climbed toward the zenith in his aeroplane in his first flight Thursday.

From out the north there was flying an orderly squadron, honking high, ranks keeping in flap with beautiful precision. The leader stretched his neck some fifty feet in advance of his troopers, quacking orders and steering a bee-line course due south.

But suddenly down on mundane old earth there arose a series of sharp reports that finally linked themselves in an unbroken chain of expostulatory sputters. Then a great bird—white winged, predatory, challenging—took flight, no doubt disturbed by the cheers and clapping of a multitude of those foolish humans.

And as this new monarch of the air hurtled itself upward and outward to meet them, the leader of that goose army accepted discretion as the better part of valor.

"Honk, honk!" he commanded. "Honk, honk!" said the rank and file.

Then General Goose right-faced and hit it up for the western hills, while behind him the ranks closed up and right-faced with masterly precision, following their leader into the very eye of the western sun.

No doubt descendants of that flying squadron will one day read in goose history how this strategic maneuver was executed without the loss of a single gosling.

Who was the lone lady of the aviation meet?

Something over 5,000 people asked that question Thursday, and 5,000 other people gave 5,000 different answers, aggregating 5,000 bad guesses.

Tanned with wind and sun, garbed in a snug "tailor-made" that displayed to advantage her athletic form, this girl of mystery shunned the crowd, establishing herself in the center of the race track inclosure.

From her isolation she watched every move of the flying aeroplane with eager attention.

The reporter sensed a "human interest story." "Wife glue her glims on y' like that every time you fly?" he asked Aviator Robinson, with a knowing jerk of his head toward the lone lady on the landscape.

"My wife and babies are in Minneapolis," smiled Robinson. Then his eye took in the woman, and he shook his head. "No sabe," he said.

"Y' gotta nuther daddy on the Santa Fe," hummed the reporter. "Say, McGarvie, pipe the dame. What's her lay?"

"Hero worship, most likely," said the manager. "Full of sentimental tommyrot. The kind that send flowers to murderers. If an aviator is killed, she cuts off a button or an ear for a souvenir. The type is a pest."

The reporter appealed to Agent Gammon for confirmation.

"Spy!" whispered Gammon, mysteriously, drawing down his eyebrows, but of course not to repulse a twinkle that seemed trying to twinkle in his demure eye. "They follow us everywhere, trying to get our secrets for rival companies. I'll have a fly cop on her trail in a minute."

Well, anyway, there are three of the tales. If they don't suit you, there are 4,997 other yarns to choose from. Take your choice, and to round out the narrative add the comment of a gamin who, overhearing McGarvie's version, volunteered:

"Take it from me, kiddo, that gal's some squab. Guess she's gotta stick out there by her lonesome to keep from bein' grabbed off."

Even Hugh Robinson's story about a header from the clouds in which he actually dug a half dozen potatoes from their cozy bill with his car failed to cool the ardor of "Bob" Robertson, Billy Friese and a half dozen other ambitious young men who acknowledged a hankering to soar away on biplane No. 13. After being disturbed by seven telephone calls at the Stoddard, each of which summarized the yearning of some adventurous citizen for more intimate acquaintance with the rarefied strata, the aviator ordered the "phone in his room disconnected."

"They get the bug wherever we go," said McGarvie. "After we leave you'll find a Darius Green on every corner with a new flying machine that beats the birds and is destined to revolutionize the aviation business."

And McGarvie was right. Now, there's Greig.

D'you notice Gussie Roy?

Gussie got the bug, too. Art photography should have been excuse enough to get any prepossessing young man next to the sanctified circle drawing the "hands off" line about the biplane, but Gussie dragged in science to reinforce art, presenting himself at the holy of holies as an expert electrician.

Mr. Roy came as an onlooker, but in just three minutes after his arrival a surprised throng saw him ditch his coat and roll up his sleeves. Ten seconds later the spectators were treated to the spectacle of an immaculate young gent lying on his back beneath the aeroplane, trying out spark coils, testing carburetors and trying bolts and screws and

THINK ROBINSON WILL START FOR HERE TOMORROW

Aviator Has Two Narrow Escapes in Attempt to Fly from Minneapolis

IS UNLUCKY IN TAXICAB TOO

Friday, the Thirteenth, Proves Jonah Day; Auto Smashed by Street Car

J. W. Scott, of Minneapolis, who is in La Crosse representing the Trans-Mississippi Flight association, and who will meet Aviator Robinson here when his hydro-aeroplane arrives, probably tomorrow, at one o'clock this afternoon received the following dispatch:

"Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 14, 1911. 'J. W. Scott, 'Care Tribune, 'La Crosse, Wis.

"Weather conditions unchanged. Probably Robinson will wait till tomorrow for next trial.

"ROBERT T. GAMMON." At 2:40 this afternoon J. V. Young, local manager of the Bell Telephone company, received the following from Minneapolis over long distance:

"Weather conditions again prevented flight today. Better weather expected, and Robinson will probably leave Minneapolis at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning."

While many of the factories will be closed tomorrow, Sunday, the signal agreed upon will be given when Robinson leaves Winona. Bells and whistles will announce the approach of the aviator.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 14.—Hugh Robinson, aviator, tried again this morning to start from here for New Orleans in a Curtiss hydro-aeroplane, but was driven back by choppy winds. He may start later in the day.

It develops that in his attempt to begin his flight yesterday, Robinson nearly lost his life. He had ascended some 500 feet yesterday, and although the wind was bad at that elevation, he decided to "take a shot" at the 3,000 altitude, from which he was to shape his course south.

A Risky Landing. Robinson guided the hydro-aeroplane upward, and it was caught by a choppy wind that swept him swiftly in one direction, then in another.

It was only by desperate work that he regained control, righted the machine, and made his descent to the lake. In doing so he came dangerously near a barge and dredge. He reached the lake safely and at once made for the starting place.

"It is impossible to keep aloft in this weather," he said to H. A. Tuttle, president of the association. "This weather is the worst I ever tried to navigate in. The wind is choppy and is full of air holes. I will attempt it again when the storm abates."

The association officers agree that Robinson may choose his own time to fly.

Unlucky in Taxicab, Too.

When Robinson alighted he took a taxicab on his way back to the Hotel Radisson. On the way down town the machine struck a Lake Harriet street car at Hennepin avenue and Harmon place, the aviator and R. H. Young, his manager, were thrown to the pavement. The machine was badly smashed, but no one was hurt.

Nobody blamed the chapter of accidents on the fact that yesterday was Friday, the thirteenth.

"My friend Young insisted upon my getting into one of those dangerous machines," said Robinson after the accident. "I should have known better than to take such a headless trip. Believe me, aeroplanes for mine."

30,000 People Stand Hours in Rain. Robinson's attempt to rise was spectacular and gratified the 30,000 people, who had been standing in the rain on the shores of Lake Calhoun since daybreak.

Joins. You see, owing to the illness of Mr. Clark, Robinson was one mechanical short, and Gussie just couldn't keep his hands off that bird of a machine. You bet he was welcome, and nobody worked harder or more intelligently to prepare the biplane for its flight than he.

That's about all, excepting that Charley Holway is going to sue the Curtiss Exhibition company for alienating the affections of his best machinist, Agent Gammon hired "Bob" Burcom to help rig up the machine, and Robinson found him so capable that he made him an offer to go with the aviation concern. Bob went, bag and baggage, eloping with the birdman Thursday evening.

"Watch me make that sky pilot do the spiral glide if I ever get my hands on him!" said the irate automobilist. For even Charley Holway can lose his temper, sometimes

HARLAN, "GRAND OLD MAN OF THE JUDICIARY" DEAD

Famous Justice of U. S. Supreme Court Dies Poor in Money, but Rich in Honor

PASSES AWAY IN HIS SLEEP

Won His Greatest Fame Through Dissenting Opinion in Recent Trust Cases

WAS BIG IN BODY AND MIND

Death Gives Taft Duty of Electing His Fifth Appointee to Supreme Bench

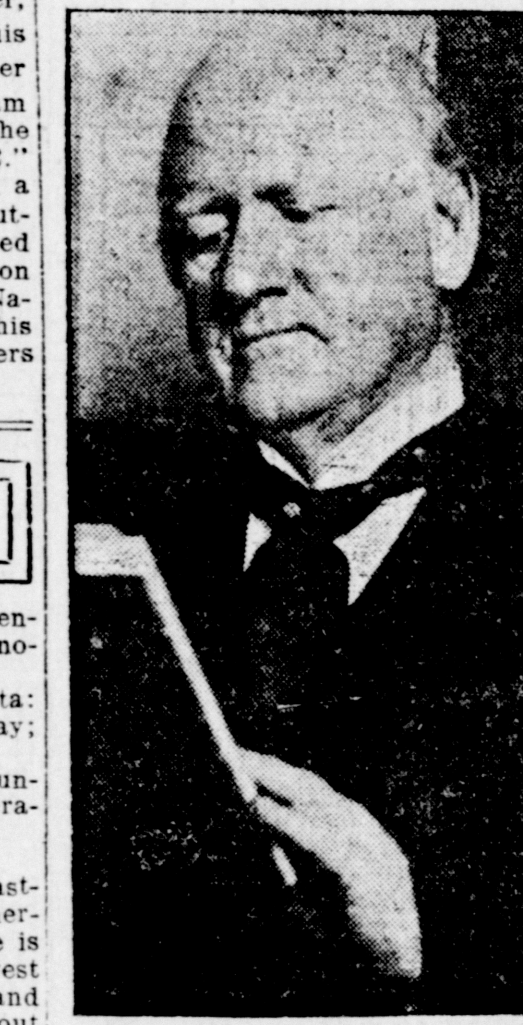

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—John Marshall Harlan, the "grand old man of the judiciary," for thirty-four years an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, died in a peaceful sleep at 8:15 o'clock today—comparatively poor in the matter of money, but a multi-millionaire in honor and esteem.

Only the famous chief justice, John Marshall, for whom Harlan was named, served longer on the highest bench than he, and if Harlan had lived until next spring he would have gained his highest remaining ambition by attaining the greatest record for continuous service.

His greatest ambition was to be chief justice of the United States. He served temporarily in that capacity following the death of Chief Justice Fuller, July 14, 1910, until President Taft elevated Edward Douglass White, Harlan's junior, to the highest seat in the judiciary.

Fame in Dissenting Opinion. Though Harlan's marvelous hardihood forbade him from showing, by the slightest sign, his disappointment, his friends knew that from the day of the announcement of White's appointment, the aged jurist started upon the decline. Then for the first time came signs of weakening in the massive frame of the great Kentuckian. He held himself well in hand, however, throughout last winter, and won his greatest fame through his dissenting opinions in the Standard Oil and Tobacco trust cases, in which he bitterly arraigned the remainder of the court for "usurping the power."

FLORAL SHOW TO BE A BIG TREAT

La Crosse Floral Company to Exhibit Plants Raised for National Exhibitions

The calling off of the big floral show in Minneapolis and the national show in Chicago has resulted in giving La Crosse people a chance to enjoy one of the biggest floral exhibitions ever put on in La Crosse.

Mr. C. E. Schafer, of the La Crosse Floral company, who had entered his plants in the big city shows, has decided to show the product of his firm to La Crosse people and on October 16, 17 and 18, they will be on display in the Masonic Temple, Eighth and Main streets.

So big will be the display and so numerous the flowers that it has been decided to turn each day over to some particular plant.

The first day of the show will be chrysanthemum day and 250 plants with from 50 to 2,300 buds each will be shown. The plants are evidence of the horticulturist's art.

The second day will be carnation day while the third day will be turned over to the exhibition of roses.

The last day of the exhibition will also be educational day for the school children at which time they will be shown the various plants and details in the raising and care of the flowers will be explained.

Leads, descriptions of the inside game will be written by Grantland Rice, New York's best known baseball authority, who has handled the National league games throughout the season. The detailed record of play by play will be dictated directly to the wire by F. H. Sypher of Cleveland, one of the official scorers of the American league. On the morning following each game a critical analysis of the previous day's contest written by Grantland Rice especially for the United Press, will be handed over the wire.

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Roars of indignation, threats of police and even legislative investigation notwithstanding, as a result of a gigantic ticket speculator scandal, there was not a vacant seat in the bleachers, grandstand or boxes at the Polo grounds when, at 1:30 p. m., the Athletics took the field for a preliminary batting practice.

With upwards of the 50,000 of the ultra-lucky packed within the Giants' brand new stadium, at least 10,000 of the less fortunate were forced to content themselves with the result obtained from ticket tapes and improvised scoreboards.

Cogan's Bluff, long famous in baseball annals, was a mecca for hundreds of those unable to get within the grounds. A watchman's tower on the elevated road, the one spot of vantage outside the grounds, was packed like a political plum tree, and even the house tops of the apartments on the far side of the Harlem river, a half mile away, were packed with manipulators of powerful binoculars.

A lightning fast diamond and the slightest haze overcasting the sky and obviating any difficulties for the sun fielders, contributed to the early promises of a royal battle.

When the announcer stated that the Indian, Bender, would occupy the mound for the Athletics, there was a wild cheer from the stands and a scattered outburst of hilarity which served to locate the Quaker rooters, but when an instant later it was announced that Matty, the Giants' war horse, would start the contest for New York, the roar that went up started a trembling of the needle in the seismograph observatory at Columbia university.

Lord nervously, with a huge waggon tongue, trotted out from the visitors' bench and the war which promised to make the Turbo-Italian affair look like an amateur sideshow, was on.

Teams' Lineup

New York: Giants—Devore, lf; Doyle, 2b; Snodgrass, cf; Murray, rf; Markle, 1b; Herzog, 3b; Fletcher, ss; Meyers, c; Mathewson, p.

Athletics—Lord, lf; Oldring, cf; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; Murphy, rf; Davis, 1b; Barry, ss; Thomas, c; Bender, p.

Umpires—Klem behind the plate, Dineen on the bases, Connolly and Brennan in the outfield.

Batteries—Philadelphia: Bender and Thomas; New York: Mathewson and Meyers.

Marquard and Mathewson were the only two of the Giant pitchers to warm up before the game, while Mack had Bender, Coombs and Plank all on the warming up line.

As a result of the field being kept entirely clear of spectators, ground rules were unnecessary, and a hit into the crowd, the bleachers entirely surrounding the playing field certainly meant a home run.

First Inning

Matty's first offering cut the plate unmoored by Lord and a mighty roar went up. The Athletic left fielder looked on helplessly.

OWEN WISTER IS DEAD

FAMOUS NOVELIST REPORTED TO HAVE DIED IN MON-TANA: RUMOR IS UN-
CONFIRMED

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 14.—Owen Wister, the novelist, died in Wyoming today while his wife was rushing from Erie in a special train to his bedside. Although the train averaged a mile a minute, death was the speedier and won the race. The Wisters' home was in Philadelphia. Mrs. Wister was attending the state federation of women's club in Erie when she received news of her husband's sudden illness. Wister's most famous novel is probably "The Virginian."

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Oct. 14.—No confirmation of the report that Owen Wister is dead has been received here. He was to have participated in the dedication of the

Quick Action Prescription Cures Colds in a Day

The best and quickest prescription known to medical science for colds and coughs is as follows: "Get two ounces of Glycerine and half an ounce of Concentrated Pine compound. Then get half a pint of good whiskey and put the other two ingredients into it. Shake it well. Take one to two teaspoonfuls after each meal and at bed time. Smaller doses to children according to age." Be sure to get only the genuine (Globe) Concentrated Pine. Each half ounce bottle comes in a tin screw-top sealed case. Any druggist has it on hand or will quickly get it from his wholesale house. Any one can mix this at home. There are many cheaper preparations of large quantity but it don't pay to experiment. This treatment is certain cure.

PROGRESSIVES POLL OVERWHELMING VOTE

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 14.—Doubt that the constitutional amendment for woman's suffrage has passed, was apparently removed when returns from 2,717 precincts showed a plurality for the amendment of 1,678.

With the passage of the suffrage amendment assured, it is now certain that everyone of the twenty-three amendments to the constitution submitted at Tuesday's election was endorsed and will speedily become a part of the law of the state. The final count on the initiative, referendum and recall has not been tabulated, so enormous are the pluralities polled by these propositions. When count was suspended temporarily the recall showed more than 102,000 plurality.

U. S. BANKS PROSPEROUS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—That the banks of the United States are in a state of most vigorous health was shown today in the most complete report on the condition of the banks ever compiled by the comptroller of the currency.

Twenty-four thousand three hundred and seventy-one banks reported to the comptroller their condition on June 7, last—1,276 more than reported the previous year. Analysis of the resources and liabilities shows loans of $15,047,300,000; investments in bonds, etc., $5,052,000,000; cash on hand, $1,552,700,000; capital, $1,952,400,000; surplus and profits, $2,065,600,000; individual deposits, $15,907,000,000.

Virginian hotel at Medicine Bow, Wyo., ten days ago, but he failed to appear. Wister is supposed to be somewhere in the Jackson's Hole country, hunting big game, and at the same time getting data for a new novel.

OSLER RIGHT; YOUTH SUCCEEDS AGE

Gray Hair Is First Sign of Age.
Harmless Remedy Restores
to Natural Color

Osler isn't the only man who turns down old age. In the business world the "young man" is always the one who picks the plums. It is an age of "new thought," "new talent," etc., and the old man is passed by in the race.

One of the first signs of coming age is the appearance of gray hairs. When you see them, act promptly. Wither's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will correct this sign, which so often deceives people into thinking that age is really upon them. It is a well-known fact that Sage and Sulphur will darken the hair. Wither's Sage and Sulphur combines these old-time remedies with other agents, which remove dandruff and promote the growth of the hair.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize the druggist to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

How English Beauties
Peel Their Faces

(From Society World)
"While abroad recently I could not help observing that the average Englishwoman's complexion is far more beautiful than that of the average woman of our country," says Mrs. Scott, secretary of the National Health-Culture Society. "Making inquiries, several intimate friends in London confided to me that they regularly used on their faces what is commercially known as mercolized wax. I do not know whether the habit is general there, but I do know that this wax has wonderful rejuvenating properties, for I've tried it myself."

"If you will get an ounce of this mercolized wax at your drug store and apply it like cold cream, you will soon behold in your glowing cheeks their first resemblance to the remarkable transparent beauty of the Englishwoman's complexion. This wax gradually peels off the lifeless scarf skin in tiny, almost imperceptible flakes, revealing the fresh new skin underneath, pinky white with the bloom of youth and health."

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

SHALL WE TRY HOME RULE?

Prior to the last city election La Crosse citizens manifested considerable interest in a suggestion that this city adopt the commission form of government. The idea was finally abandoned, largely owing to the fact that objection was raised to some features in the commission form of government authorized by the Wisconsin statutes.

At this time The Tribune desires to call attention to Chapter 476, Laws of 1911, in which the recent session of the legislature conferred upon cities new powers of self-government. This is known as the Home Rule Law, and gives to municipalities wide latitude in framing charters to suit themselves.

The law provides four methods by which cities may change their form of government, as follows:

(1) A form of government may be submitted to a referendum by the city council upon its own initiative.

(2) Twenty-five or more electors may draft a form of government and present it to the city council, upon whom it becomes mandatory to submit it to a referendum.

(3) The city council may upon its own initiative submit to a referendum the question of calling a charter convention, and if the result is in the affirmative a charter convention shall doubt that a woman who has lived right and thought right for forty-one years is in great peril of taking a false step. On the other hand, the woman who has not been right minded, but has for forty-two years been too busy to obey her inclinations to erraticism, may in her new leisure naturally drift whither her bad instincts lead. The childless woman, her life wasted in selfishness and spent in pampered pleasure seeking, is she to whom idleness and "42" spell disaster.

WHO WANTS THE TRUTH?

Most citizens are of the opinion that Stephenson will not suffer as a result of the revelation of the truth—Evening Wisconsin.

Senator Stephenson does not seem to share the confidence of The Wisconsin, else why his attorney's impassioned appeal to the committee to exclude all evidence bearing upon the truth?

Stephenson attempted to silence all testimony as to what happened in the primary, and what happened in the legislature after Jan. 26, 1909.

He evidently does not agree with The Wisconsin that "what is wanted is the facts."

WILL HE COME BACK?

"KECKIE" MOLL

MADISON, Wis.—"Keckie" Moll, once touted as the greatest football leader in the west who was dismissed from the University of Wisconsin team for alleged "yellow" playing two years ago is back this year and is making a desperate fight to land the quarterback position on the Badger team.

Moll, whose ability as a drop kicker and manipulator of the forward pass, made him one of the most dreaded men in the west, declares that he was not well at the time of his dismissal from the team. He declares that he can "come back" this season and only desires an opportunity to make those who condemned him reconsider.

WILL MOVE BIG CAVE

PITTSBURG, Oct. 14.—Pittsburg is to have a real cave and inside of a building, too. Following the discovery of a cave in the mountains near Lewiston, Pa., directors of the Carnegie museum are making arrangements today to remove as much of it as possible to Pittsburgh where it will be "set up" in the museum. The cavern found measures 400 feet in length and about forty feet wide.

Kidney Trouble Overcome

By The Great Treatment

I have been a sufferer for years with kidney and bladder trouble and took almost everything a drug store contained, without obtaining any benefit.

I suffered so that I became utterly discouraged, as I could not sleep, was always dizzy and had a headache all the time. I saw one of your advertisements and as a last resort, decided to try your Swamp-Root. I am now taking the third bottle and feel like a new woman, sleep well and have no pains whatever.

I strongly advise all sufferers to take the only real cure for kidney and bladder trouble. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root was a God-send to me.

You may publish this letter if you wish so that it may be the means of bringing some poor sufferers back to health.

The Famous Novel by VAUGHAN KESTER

CHAPTER IX.

Judge Slocum Price.

All that day Hannibal was haunted by the memory of what he had heard and seen at Slosson's tavern. More than this, there was his terrible sense of loss, and the grief he could not master. Marking the course of the road westward, he clung to the woods, where his movements were as stealthy as the very shadows themselves.

Presently, as he stumbled forward, he came to a small clearing in the center of which stood a log dwelling. The place seemed deserted.

Tilted back in a chair by the door of this house a man was sleeping. The hoot of an owl from a nearby oak roused him. He yawned and stretched himself, thrusting out his fat legs and extending his great arms. Then becoming aware of that small figure which had stolen up the path as he slept and now stood before him in the uncertain light, he fell to rubbing his eyes with the knuckles of his plump hands.

"Who are you?" he demanded. "I'm Hannibal Wayne Hazard," said the boy. The man quitted his chair.

"Well—I am glad to know you, Hannibal Wayne Hazard. I am Slocum Price—Judge Slocum Price, sometime major-general of militia and ex-member of congress, to mention a few of those honors my fellow countrymen have thrust upon me." He made a sweeping gesture with his two hands outspread and bowed ponderously.

The boy saw a man of sixty, whose gross and battered visage told its own story. There was a sparse white frost about his ears; and his eyes, pale blue and prominent, looked out from under beetling brows. He wore a shabby plum-colored coat and tight, drab breeches. About his fat neck was a black stock, with just a suggestion of soiled linen showing above it. His figure was corpulent and unwieldy.

"You don't belong in these parts, do you?" asked the judge, when he had completed his scrutiny.

"No, sir," answered the boy. He glanced off down the road, where lights were visible among the trees.

"What town is that?" "Pleasantville—which is a lie—but I am neither sufficiently drunk nor sufficiently sober to cope with the possibilities your question offers. Have you so much as fifty cents about you?" and the judge's eyes narrowed to a slit above their folds of puffy flesh.

Hannibal, keeping his glance fixed on the man's face, fell back a step. "I can't let you go if you are penniless—I can't do that!" cried the judge, with sudden vehemence. "You shall be my guest for the night. They're a pack of thieves at the tavern," he lowered his voice. "I know 'em, for they've plucked me!" He rested a fat hand on the boy's shoulder and drew him gently but firmly into the shanty.

With flint and steel he made a light, and presently a candle was sputtering in his hands. He fitted it into the neck of a tall bottle, and as the light flared up the boy glanced about him.

The interior was clean enough, with its rough walls, dirt floor and black, cavernous fireplace. A shake-down bed in one corner of the room was tastefully screened from the public gaze by a tattered quilt.

"Boy, don't be afraid. Look on me as a friend," urged the judge.

"I reckon I'll be glad to stop," answered Hannibal.

"Such confidence is inspiring. Are you hungry?"

"Yes, sir," replied Hannibal.

"What do you say to cold fish?" the judge smirked his lips to present a relish to the idea. "I dare swear I can fatten you some corn bread into the bargain." He began to assemble the dainties he had enumerated. "Here you are!" he cleared his throat impressively, while benignly shone from every feature of his face. "A moment since you allowed me to think you were solvent to the extent of fifty cents—" Hannibal looked puzzled. "I wonder if you could be induced to make a temporary loan of that fifty cents? The sum involved is really such a ridiculous trifle I don't need to point out to you the absolute moral certainty of my returning it at an early date."

It was not the loss of his money that Hannibal most feared, and the coin passed from his possession into his host's custody.

"Thank you, my boy—I must step down to the tavern—when I return, please God, we shall know more of each other." While he was still speaking, he had produced a jug from behind the quilt that screened his bed, and now took himself off into the night.

Left alone, Hannibal gravely seated himself at the table. What the judge's larger lacked in variety it more than made up for in quantity, and the boy was grateful for this fact. Presently he heard the judge's heavy, shuffling step as he came up the path from the road, and a moment later his gross bulk of body filled the doorway. Breathing hard and perspiring the judge entered the shanty, but his eagerness kept him silent until he had established himself in his chair beside the table, with the jug and a cracked glass at his elbow. Then, bland and smiling, he turned toward his guest.

"My tenderest regards, Hannibal!" and he nodded over the rim of the cracked glass his shaking hand had carried to his lips. Twice the glass was filled and emptied, and then again, his roving, watery eyes rested meditatively on the child. "Have you a father?" he asked suddenly. Hannibal shook his head. "A mother?"

"They both of them done died years and years ago," answered the boy. "I can't tell you how long back it was, but I reckon I don't know much about it. I must have been a small child."

"Ho—a small child!" cried the judge, laughing. He cocked his head on one side and surveyed Hannibal Wayne Hazard with a glance of comic seriousness. "In God's name what do you call yourself now?"

"I'm most ten," said Hannibal, with dignity.

"I can well believe it," responded the judge. "Where did you come from?"

"From across the mountains." "And where are you going?" "To West Tennessee."

"Have you any friends there?" "Yes, sir."

Starting It Too High

It was in the days before church organs and choirs, that Deacon Dorsey volunteered to lead the singing of an old hymn. He started out very well: "My soul be on thy guard; ten thou—" and he stopped, unable to go any further because he had such a high pitch. He started over again: "My soul be on thy guard; ten thou—" and once more he stopped, this time pitched so low that he could not proceed.

"Say, Brother Dorsey," said one of the congregation, "hadn't you better start it with five thousand?"

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

COMPLETE NEWS OF NORTH SIDE

COUNTRY OWES MUCH TO BIRDS

Without Them It Would Be Useless for Habitation by Man, Declares Speaker

That without the services rendered by the native birds of America the country would soon become useless as a habitation for men, and the inhabitants would either die or be forced to move away, was the statement made last evening at the normal school by Professor D. W. Dennis, Earlham college, Richmond, Indiana, one of the greatest ornithological authorities of America, in a speech on "Our Native Birds and How They Help Us," at a meeting of the Western Wisconsin Teachers' association convention, which is meeting in La Crosse this week.

Prof. Dennis' talk was delivered with the aid of stereopticon slides of birds in their native haunts, taken by the professor himself under difficult circumstances. The pictures formed a most interesting part of the lecture, illustrating better than any words the habits and life of the different native birds of North America.

Prof. Dennis maintained that outside of the uses of birds to man as companions, songsters, and objects of beauty, they served several utilitarian purposes as well. These purposes he stated were chiefly as destroyers of insect enemies of plant life, disseminators of the seeds of desirable flowers and other vegetation, and destroyers of the seeds of obnoxious weeds.

As concrete illustrations of the work of birds in the United States as useful to farmers and others, he cited statistics compiled by professors of the state university in Iowa, showing that in that state alone in one year the song sparrows were instrumental in destroying 875 tons of the seeds of undesirable weeds.

As an instance of the work of birds in spreading the seeds of vegetation useful to man, he told of an investigation by the federal authorities in the city of Washington, D. C., who found that in one year a single rookery of crows in the Arlington cemetery carried thousands of tons of useful and desirable seeds from one place to another, enough to sow twelve thousand acres of plants of the different varieties as thick as wheat is sown.

Professor Dennis also took a fling at the shortsightedness of American farmers, whom he declared were acting against their own best interests in destroying birds because they stole a little fruit or grain from the fields.

The lecture was well attended in spite of the bad weather, and the audience appeared to appreciate Prof. Dennis' address to the utmost. Before and after the speech of the evening, the high school orchestra, led by Miss Martha Rol-

A Simple Way to Reduce Wrinkles

(From The Home Maker)

Bear in mind that wrinkles, as well as bagginess of cheek or chin, are due to the muscular tissue losing its strength and shrinking. The skin is then too large in area to fit such tissue smoothly. It wrinkles or sags.

To remedy this condition there's nothing so effective, so quick-acting, as a simple wash lotion you can easily make at home. Get an ounce of powdered salicylate from your druggist's, and a half pint witch hazel, mix the two and bathe your face in the liquid. This treatment at once tightens the skin and solidifies the underlying tissues—which of course smoothes out the lines and draws in the sagging skin. It also stimulates circulation, bringing natural color to faded cheeks.

Spirits for Rheumatism

The increased use of spirits for rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is a wonderful cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following is the formula: "To one-half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris compound and one ounce of syrup Sarsaparilla compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring." Any druggist has these ingredients or will quickly get them. Any one can mix them. This formula was published here last winter and thousands were promptly benefited. It gives immediate relief.

RESISTS ARREST BUT IS CAPTURED

Patrolman Thomas McDonough, assisted by Eugene Derr, succeeded in arresting three men charged with the theft of a pair of shoes from the Arenz shoe store after a hard fight, yesterday afternoon.

McDonough having been assigned to look for the three men shortly after the theft was reported, and finding three men who answered the description at Third and Main streets, attempted to arrest them. One showed fight and after hitting McDonough over the head started on a run toward the North side causeway.

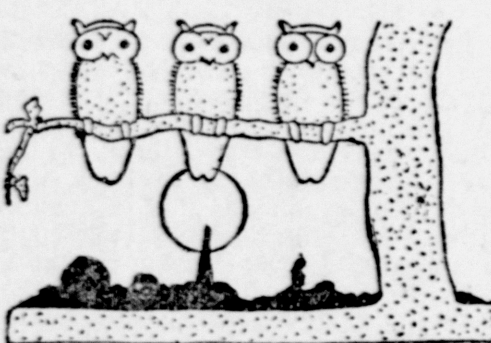

At this point Mr. Derr came to the rescue of the officer and they succeeded in taking two of the men to the police station. They then went on a hunt for the man who had escaped and overtook him near the Standard Oil company plant, where he was arrested after a hard struggle. Upon examination it was found that the men had two pair of new shoes.

AS A MAN SHOULD ANSWER

For Once a New Yorker Rose to the Occasion and Was There With Apt Response.

Two men somewhat alike as to build, dress and general appearance entered an upper West side restaurant within a few minutes of one another the other evening, says the New York Press. They were also alike and not different from the average New Yorker in burying themselves in newspapers as soon as they had chosen tables.

Presently there entered a well-dressed, good-looking woman, somewhat in a hurry, if one were to judge from her manner, and a trifle distraught. Glancing hastily around the room, she seated herself at the table which one of the men had selected.

He merely lifted his eyes from his paper for an instant, in the disinterested manner New Yorkers adopt, and fell to reading again, while the woman seized the menu card and began studying it. It took her a couple of minutes to decide what she wanted. Having found it, she laid her hand on the arm of the man. As he looked up at her a curious expression came over her face.

"Why—why, you're not my husband, are you?" she gasped.

"I am sorry, madam," he replied gallantly, "that I am not."

Then both of them laughed, which aroused the man at the other table from his paper long enough to permit him to announce himself.

TURNED BLIND ALMOST FELL

Mrs. Hansen Says at First Her Case Seemed Hopeless, but She Finally Won Out

Mobile, Ala.—"For seven years," says Mrs. Sigurd Hansen, of this city, "I suffered with womanly troubles, and, at last, was operated on. I felt better for a time, but soon I had the same trouble as before. I had dizzy spells, and would turn blind and almost fall over. I had pains in my back and side, and was not able to work."

Half the time, I could not eat any breakfast, and I always felt weak and had a headache.

One day, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, and I tried it. I felt better, so I took some more.

Now, I am well and feel fine. My doctor says I am looking better than ever. I have a good appetite and sleep well.

It is all due to Cardui. I only wish every suffering woman would try it. They would soon feel as good as I do."

You may be sure, when Cardui will relieve and cure such a serious case as that of Mrs. Hansen, that it will, much more quickly and certainly, help those women who have no serious symptoms, but are just weak and ailing?

Are you? Try it.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

Educational and Gymnasium Work at Y. W. C. A.

Class work at the Young Women's Christian association is now well started and the home presents a very busy appearance every evening with the girls in their several classes.

Monday night the orchestra had its first regular practice. Miss Fay Schuman, the leader, desires more mandolins and guitars. Young women who play stringed instruments are invited to join.

The beginners' gymnasium class also met on Monday night.

Tuesday night two of the clubs met, also the class in common school branches and the advanced gymnasium class.

The O. C. club, after the Bible study and business meeting, had a most interesting program on Beethoven. Miss Edith Dickens gave a report on a musical book the club is studying, "Hard Music Begun," and Miss Reimers read a splendid paper on Beethoven's life, after which Miss Agnes Ballard played some of his compositions. Next Tuesday night Miss Gertrude Hogan is to speak to the girls.

The Embroidery club, under Miss Hoffman, also met. The girls are most enthusiastic about their work. They are to be known hereafter as the W. W. club and will soon have a constitution and be organized with officers and committees with regular business meetings.

Thursday night the Girls' Friendship club met with Miss Lucy Hogan. The club is still growing. The girls are not only doing thorough work, but at the same time have a most enjoyable social time while having supper together.

The sewing class under Miss Florence Moore also met on Thursday night, as did the beginners' gymnasium class. The north side Bible class met for the first time this fall with the Misses Mason. The girls are to take "Studies in Acts" in winter under Miss Dinsdale.

Friday night the English for foreigners met with Miss Barcum, also the advanced gymnasium class.

The enrollments in all the classes is gratifying for the beginning weeks but it is hoped that many more may join. There is something worth while for every young woman.

In the gymnasium clubs are being organized of both younger and older girls, some for basketball and some for regular class work. When girls in groups of fifteen or more wish to take work, either in the gymnasium or in any of the educational classes a special club rate is made.

One of the little tragedies of real life is that of a man whose artistic ideals are embodied in George Cohan, vaudeville, and the comic supplement married to a woman who dotes on grand opera. Isben and Omar Khayyam.

Does your watch run to the second?

Very few watches run to the second. Perhaps when they were new they did, but some incompetent repair man has destroyed the extreme accuracy of your timepiece through ignorance in handling the delicate parts. We have a great many good watches brought to us for repairs that have failed to give satisfaction. If your watch is in this condition bring it to us for repairs and adjustment we can make it just as accurate and reliable a time-keeper as ever. Watches adjusted to the second, is our motto.

Worn Out?

Maybe not. Bring them to us and let us tell you whether or not they're worth fixing. It's a safe bet we can make them look and wear like new, and save a lot of money for you.

H. H. Morgan of Madison, assistant U. S. district attorney, the next witness aroused the interest of the committee by reading a letter of Dane county, which he wrote during the campaign. A reference in the letter to getting the democrats out followed by a question by Senator Sutherland, led Mr. Morgan to explain that when the democrats have only one candidate and the republicans several, they sometimes wear into the republican primaries to help nominate the weakest candidate. The witness said he received a check from Edmonds for $266 and $50 from A. R. Ames, which was all he disbursed.

TO VACATE STREET FOR PLOW COMPANY

Council Last Night Votes to Close Badger Street to Enable Building of Addition

HOOR STOPS BRIDGE VOTE

Question Argued Until 11 O'Clock, but Will Be Taken Up Again; Ask Bids on Market

By a vote of seventeen to three, the common council last night voted to vacate the lower part of Badger street for the La Crosse Plow company after the committee to whom the matter was referred had reported favorably on the question. No conditions were included in the decision to vacate the street, the vote being taken after a secret session.

Following a secret session, Alderman P. W. Mahoney introduced an amendment to the resolution to make the wagon bridge free on October 15, to the effect that on or after May 1, 1912, the toll should be removed if a majority of the electors of La Crosse voted in favor of the measure on the first Tuesday of next April when an election should be held to find out the sentiment of the citizens. Alderman Torrance seconded the motion, but after a discussion it was decided to defer action on the amendment until Friday, Oct. 27, when there will be an adjourned meeting of the city council.

The free bridge matter was brought up in a committee meeting of the whole, when J. W. Bryant, Harry Taggart, and Mr. Farrell of Minnesota were called upon to speak.

Mr. Bryant declared that the $10,000 can be secured for $8,200 has already been subscribed and that he had an agreement from the Merchants' Protective association that they would give the remainder to make up the full amount.

He said that he took an automobile trip to Minnesota with Messrs. Hearst and Cooley of the Wisconsin and Minnesota road commissions respectively, and that Mr. Cooley said that a gravel road was the proper kind. He advocated a fourteen foot road with three feet on each side slanted, as he asserted that this would be better than a twenty foot highway. They visited the Smith Gruber company of La Crosse, which concern will submit figures on the cost shortly.

Because of several questions in regard to the construction, the two road men were unable to submit estimates of the cost, said Mr. Bryant. Mr. Cooley agreed to use his influence to get the road designated as a county highway, which movement, if successful, will insure improvements. Mr. Bryant declared that, in his opinion, the majority of the voters were unable to vote on this question so he asserted that it should be decided by the businessmen.

An estimate was submitted that it would cost $6,000 to put the West Channel bridge in good repair, this resolution being referred to the finance, bridges and grounds and buildings committees.

The new city charters, which have just been published, were placed on the desks of the mayor, city attorney and all aldermen. A resolution was introduced providing that all city officials, the fire and police commissions, the north and south side public libraries, park commission and normal school be each provided with one copy of the volume, while the high school, is to be given six copies. All other people desiring the book can get same by paying $4 apiece for them.

Opposition to the sale of the market square developed in the council last night but a resolution authorizing the board of public works to secure bids on the property was adopted. The amounts offered for the block will be shown the council and it is possible that the sale will follow if the amounts offered are large enough.

It was recommended that automobiles, at a cost not to exceed $2,000, be purchased for the fire and police departments, but this was referred to the fire committee.

The city clerk was authorized to petition the railroad commission to lend their services in regard to the La Crosse Gas & Electric company.

Upon a recommendation the council decided to stop the condemnation proceedings on the land on the river front near the wagon bridge.

The council ordered the board of public works to investigate the various electric light towers in the city, and wherever they found them defective to have the Gas & Electric company repair them, while if they were found to be unsafe to have them removed.

A recommendation that the Bertillon system be installed in the police department was referred to the police and finance committees.

A petition from the St. Francis hospital that they be allowed to connect two of their buildings by an overhead bridge was referred to the streets and alleys and health committees.

In view of the fact that outsiders have been using the council chamber of late, it was voted that whenever private parties use this room that they must pay $5 to $10, according to the length of time it is used.

It was found that taxes charged Norris Batchelder were wrong for which reason the paper will be removed from the city clerk's office and referred to the judiciary committee.

Alderman Mahoney introduced an ordinance to amend ordinance 503, to the effect that it should not refer to farm products and food stuffs. This was referred to the ordinance committee.

A resolution was presented that

BIG CAR FERRY MOVED AT LAST

Ship Built at Dubuque Seven Months Ago Allowed to Go Down Stream by the Flood

La Crosse people who attended the regatta and races of the Mississippi Valley Power Boat Association at Dubuque, Ia., last July 4, 5 and 6 will remember the monster transport boat that was tied in the harbor there. Built seven months ago by the Dubuque Boat & Boiler Works, it was impossible to transfer it to the southern city on account of the low water. The rise in the river, due to the Black River flood, makes its moving possible.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Oct. 14.—(Special)—After lying at her dock for seven months after being completed, the big transfer boat "B. F. Yukum," built by the Dubuque Boat and Boiler Works, left here at eight o'clock this morning bound for Galland, at the head of the Keokuk rapids, to await the flood of water coming down from the Black, Upper Mississippi and Wisconsin rivers, which it is expected will give enough water to take the big boat over the rapids, it being too large to be accommodated by the government locks.

The boat was built for the Frisco lines, to be used as a car transport at Baton Rouge, La., and, with the Albattross, a sister ship built here two years ago, will be the largest steamer on the Mississippi river. The big boat is 305 feet long, 52 feet 6 inches beam and draws four feet of water when not loaded. Across the guard rails the boat measures an even 90 feet and carries two standard gauge tracks capable of accommodating from sixteen to twenty ordinary freight cars. The power plant consists of two engines each of 26-inch bore and ten foot stroke, developing 1,000 horsepower, and a battery of Benson boilers, also built here. Over 1,500 tons of steel entered into the construction of the monster, which is the largest ever built on an inland waterway.

The boat is in charge of Captain Thomas Dolson, of Dubuque, one of the most widely experienced steamboat captains on the Mississippi river.

The C. M. & St. P. railway be allowed to put macadam between their tracks in the alley on Second street, this being referred to the special street improvement committee.

Wants Better Streets P. W. Mahoney recommended that several north side streets be improved or macadamized next year. This matter was given over to the special street improvement committee for consideration.

Mr. Mahoney introduced a measure that the city issue bonds to the extent of $25,000 for permanent street improvements. There were to be twenty-five bonds of $1,000 each with four percent interest, the whole amount to be paid in 1932. The ordinance and finance committee was given charge of the resolution.

A complaint from residents in the vicinity of Loomis and Livingston streets was received, they asserting that after a rain the water stood there in large quantities. This was referred.

The complaint of Peter Muenzenberger, who claimed to have been assessed wrongly, was referred to the judiciary committee.

A new sidewalk was ordered installed on the Y. W. C. A. property, but when the association asked to have this repealed the finance, judiciary and streets and alleys committees were given charge of the matter.

The petition of the social democratic party asking that a market be put on both the north and south sides was referred to the finance committee.

As it was asserted that corner lights had been off more nights than the bill stated, the council decided to retain $200 on the bill submitted.

The twelve jurors on the park condemnation proceedings were allowed $4 each for their services.

The secretary of the board of public works was ordered to put in a resolution with each bill and estimate submitted the council.

Following a recommendation of the committee, it was decided to allow the La Crosse Plumbing Sup-

BOY LOST; WISCONSIN MAN FACES CHARGE

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 14.—Harry Phillips, 22 years old, of Mondovi, Wis., was arrested Thursday afternoon at the Minnesota Transfer on the charge of kidnapping John Perkins, 13 years old, a son of Mr. Frank Perkins of the same place.

Young Perkins disappeared last Tuesday. He left his father's home, near the Wisconsin town, to go to school, and never returned.

A friend of his father's said John had been seen talking with Steve Loomis, who was preparing a car of emigrant goods for shipment to his claim in South Dakota, and that Loomis persuaded the lad to accompany the car.

The elder Perkins hurried to St. Paul and located the immigrant car at the Transfer, in charge of young Phillips. He asked the St. Paul police to arrest him. There was no sign of John Perkins.

Young Phillips claims the lad insisted on accompanying the car to South Dakota. He says the conductor of the train put the lad off at Knapp, Wis.

Phillips is to be held in jail on a fugitive warrant, sworn out by the boy's father, until proceedings for his extradition to Wisconsin are perfected.

SUFFERED AGONY WITH ITCHING

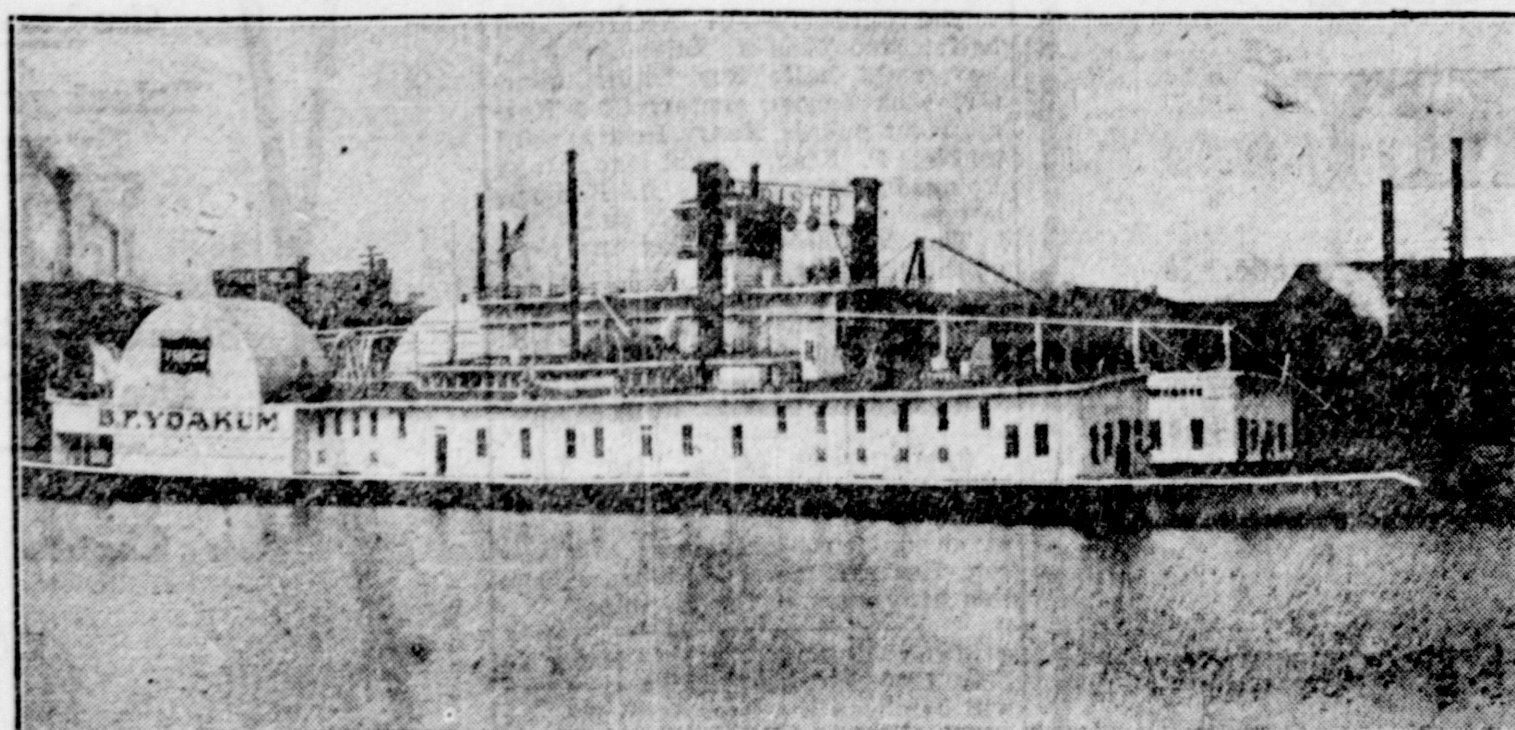

And Burning. Sores Like Boils All Over Body. Parts of Flesh Raw. Could Scarcely Bear Clothes On. Nearly Worn Out When He Tried Cuticura Remedies and Was Cured.

"About four years ago I broke out with sores on my arms like boils. After two months they were all over my body, some coming, and some going away. In about six months the boils quit, but my arms, neck and body broke out with an itching, burning rash. It would burn and itch, and come out in pimples like grains of wheat. I was in a terrible condition; I could not sleep or rest. Parts of my flesh were raw, and I could scarcely bear my clothes on. I could not lie in bed in any position and rest. In about a year the sores extended down to my feet. Then I suffered agony with the burning, itching sores. I could hardly walk and for a long time I could not put on socks.

"All this time I was trying everything I could hear of, and had the skill of three doctors. They said it was eczema. I got no benefit from all this. I was nearly worn out, and had given up in despair of ever being cured when I was advised by a friend to try Cuticura Remedies. I purchased Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent, and used exactly as directed. I used the Cuticura Remedies constantly for four months, and nothing else, and was perfectly cured. It is now a year, and I have not had the least bit since. I am ready to praise the Cuticura Remedies at any time." (Signed) E. L. Cate, Elk, Ky., Nov. 10, 1910.

GIANTS AND CHAMPS CLASH IN FIRST OF WORLD'S SERIES TODAY

NEW YORK WILD OVER BIG SERIES

Crowds Fight for Entrance While Police Try to Keep Order; Both Are Confident

Johnny Mack—Outside of McInnis every one of the players is in great shape for the opener. Like all of my men, I am confident of retaining the championship. I can not say who will pitch until directly before the game.

Johnny McGraw—My team is in excellent shape. On paper the Athletics may have outthit and outfielded us, but we are not worrying over this. We are confident we will win. Who will pitch? I can not tell.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—New York is baseball mad. Historic battles have been fought on the Polo grounds, and pennants have been won and lost. But in none of these contests has the interest been as high as that which marks the series between the Giants and the Athletics.

Thousands upon thousands have been disappointed. They are unable to get within the inclosure to see the initial clash. Hundreds who have sent applications for seats will not be accommodated. The demand far exceeds the supply.

Everything is ready for the opener. The grounds are in excellent shape. The attaches have all been drilled in their respective duties. Coupon holders will find no confusion in getting their seats. Police reserves will be on hand to keep order inside. Others will be on the outside to quell any riotous disturbance among those who have been unfortunate enough not to get inside. It is predicted that long before the game is called—2 o'clock—the gates will be closed. Fifty thousand will be inside, and that is all the grounds will hold.

RELIEF TRAINS ARE ROBBED BY BANDITS

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 14.—To death and disaster from the tidal wave and hurricane which devastated 250 miles of the coast of Sonora, is now added the fear that few of the relief trains sent out from Hermosillo have reached their destination, owing to the activity of the Sonora bandits.

When word first reached the governor of Sonora that Guaymas and many other towns had been swept away, numbers of relief trains were sent out immediately, most of them unarmed. Reports now drifting in from the stricken community indicate that only a small percentage of these ever reached their destination and that some of those that did arrive had been robbed by the bandits. The governor reports that he is sending troops out with every relief corps now leaving the city and that he hopes to provide for the survivors of the storm within a short time. Food and clothing are urgently needed.

WISCONSIN IS READY FOR RIPON

Star Is Out of the Game, but Badgers Are Confident of Victory

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 14.—The varsity team was given a light workout yesterday afternoon in preparation for the Ripon game this afternoon. Castle, the Milwaukee boy, was put in at quarter, and Tandberg, Chambers and Hayes made up the backfield. The second squad tried out new plays. The field was wet and hard practice was out of the question.

At the start this afternoon the Wisconsin lineup will probably be as follows: Hoefel, le; Roberts, lt; Mackmiller, lg; Framstad, c; Nordrud, rg; Capt. Buser, rt; Ostlie, re; Gillette, qb; Tormey, lb; Pollock, rh; Tandberg, fb.

Ripon will probably line up in the following order: Mutch, le; Rock, lt; Barthorpe, lg; C. Finnegan, c; Prellwitz, rg; Capt. W. Finnegan, rt; Sorenson, re; Swartz, q; Carroll, lb; Fruth, rh; Utgard, fb.

The following officials will act: Referee, Bokum; umpire, McCormick, Princeton; head linesman, Benbrook, Michigan. The game will be called at 3 o'clock.

YOUNG TURKS MAY FORCE THE WAR

Convening of Parliament Tomorrow May Result in Revolution; Italians Defeated

LONDON, Oct. 14.—The issues of peace and war appear to hang upon the struggle that will begin today in the Turkish parliament between the Young Turks and the conservatives. If the Young Turks win control of the government, as now appears likely, peace will probably be further off than ever and the situation may be complicated by another Turkish revolution.

The committee of union and progress will insist that the war be conducted to the bitter end. Before this program can be carried out, it is believed that it would be necessary to depose the sultan and this, it is understood, the Young Turks are prepared to do. They propose to elevate in his stead Prince Yussuf, the heir apparent.

In the meantime Italy is pouring into Tripoli and will soon have an army of 40,000 men there. A report from Constantinople today claimed that the Italians had been severely defeated by the Turkish garrison but little credence was placed in the report here.

Larry Doyle and Fred Merkle of the Giants, too, are said not to be in the best physical condition, as the result of injuries sustained in their last series with the Infants.

BIG GAMES WILL BE PLAYED TODAY

Largest Colleges are Reaching the Hard End of the Schedule; Wisconsin Plays Ripon

Football teams all over the country have reached the hard part of their schedules and starting today they will meet their big adversaries. Chicago will meet Purdue at Chicago and the Boilermakers will endeavor to make up for their defeat of last Saturday by Wabash, at the expense of the Maroons. The Chicago Stagg's men, however, are the favorites to win decisively.

Wisconsin will take on Ripon at Madison and it will give the followers of the Cardinal eleven a chance to see whether or not the showing against Lawrence last Saturday was due to the fact that it was the early season or the incompetency of the men. The Badgers will be handicapped by the absence of Kackie Moll at quarter and by the slump the team has been going through the past week. Many shifts have been made and Coach Richards is confident that his men will win by a good score.

Michigan Meets Aggies
The Wolverines will take on a worthy foe today when the clash with the Michigan Aggies. The farmers have not shown anything startling, but Michigan is also an untied quantity and their showing will be watched with interest.

Another big game is Illinois and Lawrence and fans who have been picking the Illini to walk away with the conference championship are awaiting anxiously the result of this contest. Minnesota, who has been pretty lucky to keep defeat from their door, will remain idle.

Yale Clashes With V. P. I.
In the east, Yale will take on Virginia Polytechnic at New Haven, always a strong minor college, and Harvard will take on Williams, who have always given the Crimson a hard struggle. Princeton will take on Colgate and the safety of the Tiger's goal line is to be feared if Lehigh can tie them. Pennsylvania will take on Villa Nova, and although the Penn team has not shown up strong so far they should trim their opponents. The two big games will be Cornell and Penn State and Dartmouth and Holy Crosse. The two first named are strong, according to reports, and the latter two will show how the Green stands in relation to the big universities this season.

Carroll and Lawrence at War
WAUKESHA, Wis., Oct. 14.—E. Housley will not play with Lawrence today because of a protest entered by Coach Bleamaster of Carroll that Housley played on an athletic team at Washington State university last year, which eliminates him from state athletics for a one-year period.

Coach Catlin retaliated by protesting Dumas, Carroll's fullback, but the Waukesha player has proven a clean record.

Up to today the two schools are deadlocked over the officials for today's game at Waukesha.

CARDINALS DOWN CITY CHAMPIONS

The Cardinals defeated the Tigers on the high school gridiron yesterday after a hard battle by a score of 6 to 12. Long end runs, blocking of punts and rapidly in recovering the pignin on fumbles gave the Cardinals two touchdowns in the last quarter of play.

During the first half no score was made. In the third quarter the Tigers who have held the 150 pound championship during the past two years, took a brace and after a hard struggle carried the ball over their opponent's goal line. The quarter ended with a score of six to nothing.

In the last quarter the Cardinals blocked a punt near the Tigers' line and recovering the ball went over for a touchdown. Goal was kicked leaving the two teams tied. The other touchdown which came a few moments later was the result of a fumble by one of the Tigers.

The Tiger lineup:

The Cardinals—G. Withrow, left half; Fred Zeisler, fullback; John Fay, right half; Roy Lapitz, quarter; Nick Zeisler, center; Glen Heggy, right guard; Henry Heslip, right tackle; F. King, right end; John Robinson, left guard; A. Komery, left tackle; H. Noun, left end.

The Cardinals will play any team of their weight in this city or vicinity. Arrangements may be made for games with several of the surrounding high schools.

HARVARD PLAYS WILLIAMS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14.—With her gridiron warriors in better shape physically and as a team than at any time previously this season, Harvard meets Williams college this afternoon at the Stadium.

Stuffy McInnis may be unable to play first for the Athletics, which will handicap the team from the city of Brotherly Love, for McInnis is a better player than Captain Harry Davis at his best.

DIAMOND DUST

Today's the big day. And may the best team win!
Giants vs. Athletics!
Fifty thousand fans!
Coogan's bluff!
Pretty women!
A grassy diamond!
Gee, what adjectives will be worked out of various sporting writers' systems during this mixup!

Speaking of adjectives: Is there one to describe the superlative feeling of the White Sox fans when, with two men out in the last half of the ninth, the Sox recruits patted out two hits that won the game?

On with the series; let joy be unconfined.
Rollie Zeider, shifted from position to position and then back to the bench, cracked out the first hit; and Red Kretz, a class B recruit catcher, patted out the second.

It was Jimmy Callahan—"Come back" Jimmy—who endangered his weakened ankle to slide across the plate with the tying score. Honestly, it was some game.

Eight of the nine Cub players were fined $25 each by "Silk" O'Loughlin for raising a howl after the last man was out and the game ended. Queer time to kick, nichtwar?

Benton, a Red castoff, who was jerked back into the fold, toyed with the Cleveland Naps while the Red batters were toying with the Nap pitchers. Answer: Reds 10, Naps 2.

Ty Cobb, a sporting writer, says the Mack men will trim the Giants. Cobb may only be speaking from experience of the days when he was a member of the Tigers.

You can always tell when a girl is going to marry a man by the way he thinks she isn't.

SECOND WASHOUT TIES UP BURLINGTON

From 8 o'clock last night until 5 this morning the La Crosse division of the Burlington road was tied up and impassable for traffic, as the result of a washout at Stoddard, where seven cars of a train were ditched Wednesday evening, owing to a washout on another track.

There are but two tracks at Stoddard on the main line of the road, and the washout forced all trains to be held up until arrangements were made with the Milwaukee road, over which all passenger trains were run. A force of men was rushed to the spot from La Crosse, and the roadbed was temporarily put into shape for traffic early this morning.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Resolutions of endorsement and approval were received by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley today from the National Consumers' league, which has gone on record for a rigid enforcement of the pure food law.

Congress is petitioned so to amend the pure food and drugs act "that hereafter Dr. Wiley may be given a free hand to enforce the act, as was originally intended." The charges against Dr. Wiley are denounced as "foolish and unfounded." And the removal of Secretary of Agriculture Wilson is urged.

RESCUE WORKER TO ADDRESS MEET

W. V. Sillaway, Milwaukee, to Be Principal Speaker at the Theater Sunday

WILL TELL OF CONVERSION
Remarkable Life Story to Be Unfolded for Benefit of La Crosse People

The old adage that "Truth is stranger than fiction," is certainly fully exemplified by the testimony of Mr. W. V. Sillaway, superintendent of the Milwaukee Rescue mission.

Mr. Sillaway will be one of the speakers, who will address the union meeting to be held at the La Crosse Mission Sunday, Oct. 29.

In relating the remarkable story of his conversion, Mr. Sillaway said: "I was born in the state of Michigan, but as an early age went to Colorado and as a boy sold and delivered newspapers."

"It was while making my usual round of delivery that I took my first drink, it being offered to me by an old lady."

"I soon became addicted to liquor and its curse followed me constantly, despite all efforts to get away from its influence by moving away from old associations and environment."

"I had learned the barber trade and, going back to my native state, I followed it successfully in Grand Rapids, soon becoming well known as one of the best barbers in the city. "But rum and sin had a firm grip upon me, by now, and I soon descended from the finest shops in the city to the meanest and working only spasmodically, for by this time my name had become a by-word at police headquarters."

"I heard my first word of the gospel while an inmate of Cook county, Ill., jail, where I had been sent for grand larceny, from that dear Christian woman, Mrs. Sarah D. Clark, or as she is better known, 'Mother Clark,' of the Pacific Garden mission in Chicago, who sat before my cell on her three legged stool and told me of Jesus."

"Although this was six years before my conversion, I never have forgotten the words nor the impression made upon me by that grand woman."

"By this time everything was gone, nothing in life seemed left for me and I deliberately tried twice to end my life by suicide, feeling that my poor wife and boy would be immeasurably better off were I out of their way."

"At this, the turning point in my life, God put me in touch with Melvin E. Trotter of Grand Rapids, who showed me the way to Christ, but oh! how I tried his soul, for in the course of four weeks I broke away and returned to sin no less than six times. Finally the prayers of this wonderful man were answered and on May 27, 1900, my feet were successfully and firmly planted upon the solid rock of salvation and one more perishing soul was saved for Christ."

Mr. Sillaway, for four years, was assistant to Mr. Trotter in the mission at Grand Rapids and then entered into evangelistic work until, finally, he was called to take charge of the Milwaukee Rescue mission, which at that time was struggling for existence and its affairs were at low ebb.

As a monument to Mr. Sillaway and his work, the city of Milwaukee now boasts an $85,000 building for its city mission, being one of the finest in the country, and every day witnesses the conversion of some poor wretched brother from the darkest sin to the bright light of Christ's salvation.

NAB ALLEGED BANDIT TRIO

OSKALOOSA, Iowa, Oct. 14.—Local police, after a three weeks' search, have located and arrested Joe Wilson, Mike Sullivan and John Ray, charged with breaking into the storage house of Clarence Vermillion, a dealer in explosives.

A cache was discovered in the woods near here, in which great quantities of dynamite, nitro-glycerine and caps had been stored.

The police say they have evidence to connect the prisoners with the recent bank robbery at Geneva, and the attempted safe-blowing project at Albia.

TAFT DEFENDS LOAN TREATIES

President Vigorously Lauds "Dollar Diplomacy" as Exemplified in Central America

MEANS OF PRESERVING PEACE
Says nited States Has Not Made Treaties for Promotion of Banking Business

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 14.—A vigorous defense of "dollar diplomacy" as exemplified by the Nicaraguan and Honduran loan treaties now before the United States senate, was made here by President Taft. He lauded the treaties which guarantee the collection of customs duties in the South American republics to satisfy loans made by American bankers for a powerful means of preserving peace in Central and South America.

With the debts of Honduras and Nicaragua funded and collections in the hands of agents of the United States, he said, divisions would be J. P. Morgan & Company, Kuhn, Loeb & Co.; the First National Bank of New York, and the National City Bank, are to make the loans to the two countries.

More Banking Arrangement
"There is a very decided objection in the senate to the approval of these treaties," said Taft. "The general argument is that we ought not to be involved in entangling alliances with republics on this hemisphere or engaged in a mere banking arrangement for the promotion of a banking contract."

"It is objected that this is 'dollar diplomacy' and we ought to have none of it. Give a dog a bad name and you know what follows: To call a particular piece of statecraft 'dollar diplomacy' is to invoke the condemnation of muckraking journals, whose chief capital is the use of phrases of a lurid character."

"The United States has not entered into these treaties for the promotion of its banking business or that of any of its citizens. The purpose of this contract is to promote peace in this part of the world so near the Panama canal as to give us an additional geographical reason for desiring to eliminate revolution and warfare."

Taft's Throat Sore
With President Taft's throat very sore and Major Archibald Clavering Butt suffering from the hives, the presidential party had its own troubles when it invaded insurgent California today.

The president expects his invasion of California to give him the most strenuous days of his entire trip and he rested on his way here. When he reached the California line, the president's throat was so sore that he was compelled to submit to heroic poulticing and massaging at the hands of Dr. Rhoads, his personal physician. Aside from his throat, however, the president's physical condition is excellent.

Governor Johnson and other state officials boarded the president's special train at the California line and will accompany the chief executive through the state.

PORTAGE DIKES ARE HOLDING BACK FLOOD

PORTAGE, Wis., Oct. 14.—The dikes in the vicinity of Portage were holding well at 10 p. m., although water was sweeping through the levees in many places. Hundreds of men have been working day and night to prevent disaster. The gauge at 10 Wednesday night showed thirteen feet, the highest by five inches in history. The Madison and Portage division is blocked. There are twelve inches of water on the tracks two miles below the city, but a large crew is working to save the tracks from washing out.

By using Herpicide first you save yourself worry, which is desirable, you save money, which is a consideration, and you save your hair, which is the most important of all.

Why not profit by the experience of Mrs. S. A. Lee of 110 South 4th St., Richmond, Va., who writes:

"Four years' residence in India ruined my hair until it was but two inches long and very thin. I tried everything in Europe and America without benefit until I was induced to use Herpicide. My hair is now long, soft and silky and natural color. My friends never tire of admiring my hair."

Mrs. Lee's story is a typical history of hair troubles. After everything else fails Newbro's Herpicide brings relief. It would be just as effective if used first.

"OUR GIRLS"

(Extract from W. B. U. Catalog.)

Woman's work today is equal to man's both in quality and in importance. Her opportunities are as great if she has the right start. The past fifteen years have witnessed the greatest freedom and opportunity for women in the world's history. She is in demand in high class of offices. Positions of trust and responsibility are open to her as never before. Our young ladies are successful greatest freedom and opportunity ty. We believe women should have every right, and the same salaries accorded men of the same ability.

The W. B. U. has fought for fifteen years until today the same salaries are offered to our young lady graduates of the same ability for the same work. This is right.

Chicago, Ill.

Dear Mr. Toland:—I am pleased to say that since graduating from your school I have held a good position with Morris & Company, Union Stock Yards. I am always glad to say a good word for the Wisconsin Business University, for without the thorough training I received there, I would not be holding my excellent position.

Your friend,
Fanny J. Lincoln.

Centuria, Wis.

Dear Sir:—Since leaving the W. B. U. I have met with the best of success, now being in the employ of the United States Census Department at a salary which would be impossible to command had my business education been similar to that of many of my friends who were so unfortunate as to attend inferior schools.

Very truly yours,
Hermie Gauntz.

Madison, Wis.

Dear Mr. Toland:—I meet W. B. U. graduates everywhere I go and all of them are successful. I personally know of hundreds who are holding responsible positions. I can heartily recommend the Toland School to any one desiring a business education, for I know that my success is due to a thorough business training. I am still stenographer for the Regents of the University of Wisconsin and my salary has been increased.

Yours sincerely,
Clara Kellogg.

Darlington, Wis.

Dr. Mr. Toland:—I take great pleasure in recommending the Wisconsin Business University to all persons wishing a good thorough and practical education for the business world. Since graduating from your shorthand department two years ago I have been constantly employed, meeting with advancement at every turn. On January 1, 1910, I was appointed Register in Probate for La Fayette County, Wisconsin, and am now holding that position. Respectfully,

Bay M. Schreiter,
Register in Probate for La Fayette County, Wisconsin.

St. Paul, Minn.

Dear Friend:—There is no room for questioning the fact that the W. B. U. not only taught me what I know of shorthand and typewriting, but secured for me my first position in the business world. After spending six years in the employ of the La Crosse Steel Roofing & Corrugating Co. as stenographer and general office woman, I accepted a position as stenographer in the St. Paul office of S. A. Morawetz & Co., where I afterwards became manager. At the present time I have a business of my own. Miss Ella Peck is associated with me, and we conduct what is known as the Public Stenographic Company. I feel that I owe everything to the W. B. U.

Sincerely yours,
Mayme G. Kneeland.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:—I am pleased to advise you that I have been quite successful since coming to Washington. I have received another increase in salary and am now receiving $1,000 with prospects for still further increase, all of which is due to the thorough training received in your school.

Quite a number of your students are now located here, in employ of the government, and all are doing well.

Your friend,
LULU KNAPP,
Stenographer Bureau of Statistics.

Mr. Leigh Toland, Pres. Wisconsin Business University, La Crosse, Wis.

My Dear Friend:—Under separate cover I take pleasure in sending you my photograph, which I have only just received from the studio. I did not mean to keep you waiting so long for a response to your request and hope the delay has not interfered with your plans regarding your "Legion of Honor."

As this letter head will show, I am still with Messrs. J. B. Russell & Co., and as "money talks," I will let my $1,500 per year testify to what measure of success I have attained. The strongest recommendation one can bestow upon the Toland schools is that its thousands of graduates have, almost without exception, "made good," and students will find the thorough training received under the Toland regime to be a concrete foundation upon which to build successful futures.

Assuring you of my continued interest in anything appertaining to the old "W. B. U." and with kindest regards and best wishes, I am,

Sincerely your friend,
DOROTHEA E. KOETHE.

If you knew you could attend the W. B. U. for six or eight months and then be sure of a position after graduating would you come? If you could be sure of receiving from $45 to $75 to begin with would it appeal to you as a good investment?

Do you know of anything else that offers you such a guarantee of success? Come to our office. Let us show you our work, letters from thousands of successful young men and women. Why can you not be just as successful? We cannot supply the demand for our people.

Do you question our ability to prepare YOU? Do you question our statement that thousands have secured positions through our efforts? Do you not realize that your success is our success? Do you think that only a few really get positions? Let us answer these questions for you.

Do you doubt yourself? Have you no self confidence? Have you ever really tried to do anything worth while? Is it not time that you really get down to work and give yourself a chance?

We can and will help you.
